WASHINGTON AT YORKTOWN.

The London Telegraph publishes the following incident, and remarks that "there is much in the memories of Yorktown even now to draw living Englishmen and Americans nearer together, and unquestionably the bearing of General Washington at the supreme moment toward his vanquished and humiliated enemy was of that character which it is meet and right that historians should not willingly let die."

When, on the 15th of October, 1781, Lord Cornwallis had lost his two advanced redoubts by storm, he made an attempt to escape with his rank and file who were still fit for duty—rather more than 4,000 in number—across the river to Gloucester. The attempt was frustrated, as might have been expected, when it is remembered that the opposing forces, French and American, vastly outnumbered the British, and that a French fleet of more than thirty sail, under Comte de Grasse, lay in the adjoining river and roads. On the morning of the 17th of October Lord Cornwallis accepted the inevitable, and the terms of capitulation were settled between him, as representing the British side, and General Washington and the Comte de Rochambeau, as severally representing the triumphant forces of America and France. But it is not generally known that at the moment when Lord Cornwallis surrendered to General Washington, the humbled Englishman simultaneously uncovered his head. With characteristic thoughtfulness General Washington prayed him to put on his hat, as—the weather being chilly and wet—there was danger of his catching cold. "It does not much matter what now becomes of me," exclaimed the dejected Englishman; to which, in a firm voice, General Washington at once replied: "On the contrary, my lord, I anticipate for you a long career of distinction and honor in the service of your King and country." How truly these generous and prophetic words were borne out may be seen by those who care to read the epitaph upon the monument erected by a grateful country to Charles, First Marquis Cornwallis, in St. Paul's Cathedral. Yet memories of this kind serve only to remind us that, in Keble's beautiful words, "Brothers are brothers evermore; no distance"—and, it may be added, no bickerings—"breaks their tie of blood." England is, happily, on terms of the closest amity both with France and the United States, and no "celebrations" of events which happened a century since are likely to diminish the cordiality of their friendship.

A Norwegian legend satisfactorily accounts for the short tail of the bear. The bear, it seems, was once met by a fox, who carried a load of fish, and who in answer to the question how he had obtained them, replied that he had caught them by angling. The bear expressed a desire to know an art so useful, when the fox informed him that he had only to make a hole in the ice and insert his tail. "You must stop long enough, and not mind if it hurts you a little," said the friendly adviser, "for a sensation of pain is a sure sign that you have a bite.—The longer the time, the more fish. Nevertheless, when you have a good strong bite, be sure and pull out." The credulous bear followed the instructions, and kept his tail in the hole until it was frozen fast. When he pulled one end of the tail came off; and hence the shortness of the appendage at the present day.

One million dollars in gold weighs 3,685 5-7 pounds avoirdupois; 1,000,000 trade dollars weigh 60,000; $1,000,000 silver, 412 1-2 grains to a dollar, weighs 58,928 4-7; $1,000,000 in fractional silver coins weighs 55,114 2-7; $1,000,000 in five-cent nickels weighs 220,457 1-7; $1,000,000 in three-cent nickels weighs 142,857 1 7; $1,000,000 in one-cent pieces weighs 685,414 2-7 pounds.

In the Turkish empire, when the Sultan wants to dismiss officials from office, he sends a messenger, who enters the official's house, walks up to his table, and wipes the ink out of his golden pen. No more is said or done, but he understands that he is forthwith dismissed.

"Pa," asked little Blodger of his parent, "what is paper made of?" "Lies!" roared the elder Blodger who is running for office—"lies! infernal, outrageous, villainous lies!" And the innocent boy wrote it down that way in his composition.

A bible and a newspaper in every house, a school in every district, all studied and appreciated as they merit, are the principal support of virtue, morality and civil liberty.

Some unhappy person has said Lot's wife would not have looked back, but a woman in a new dress passed her and she wanted to see if the back breadth was ruffled.

A queer fact in memory is that of a woman who never knows her own age, but always knows that of her female friends.

In matters of prudence, last thoughts are best; in morality your first thoughts are best.

Every man is bound to tolerate the act of which he himself sets the example.

Sandy's Experience with Mint-Juleps.

John Greig, who, for the session commencing in 1841, represented the Canandaigua District in Congress (in place of Francis Granger, who resigned to accept the office of Postmaster-General), was a well-preserved Scotchman, as well in purse as in person, and very fond of entertaining in a princely manner. He had invited a small dinner party in order to entertain a Scotch friend who had but recently arrived in America. The hour named had fully come and passed, but the honored guest had not. Mr. Greig became uneasy and nervous, for the servants had long since reported the courses ready for serving. He went out on the porch and looked down the avenue to see if he could get a sight of his friend, when, lo! there comes "Sandy," much as if he had a hundred pounds or so upon his shoulders—in fact he was a sheet or two in the wind, as it were. Greig took in the situation at once, and, hastening down the avenue, met the happy guest, and readily got him beneath his roof. Although "Sandy" was glorious, his mental powers were yet steady. He said, "John, I'll tell ye hoo it a' came aboot. While waiting at hotel for the oor to come, I saw some Yenkees at the bar a-drinkin' som'at I coodna tell by sight what its name may be. It was a mixture of sugar and lemon and lumps of ice, and may be some else; but the barkeeper shook the mixture between twa tumblers until it foamed and sparkled like an aurora borealis; then he put in sprigs resembling meadow-mint, and then the Yonkees quaffed the liquid through a sprig of rye straw, and drank wi' a leer, as if it was unco guid. I stepped up to the barkeeper and speered to ken the name o' the liquid, when he said it was a 'jollop,' or 'jewlip,' or something like to it in tae soond. I telled him I'd tok yun; but, oh, mon, it wos no bod to tok! The fak is, John, afoor I kenned what I was aboot, I had made 'way wi' seeven, a' through a bit o' rye straw. Noo, John, if I had but kenned the power o' the thing, and hod quot at six, my heed would no feel as if the pipers and the fiddlers were playing lively reels in it, and a score o' lads and lasses were dancing in glee a' aboot it. Noo, John, if ye be minded ever to try yon Yonkee 'jollops,' tok my advice and be content wi' six at a sittin'. Mind ye, if ye try seeven, ye maun be waur oor Tam o' Shanter or mysel'; six is quite enough, John."—Editor's Drawer, in Harper's Magazine for May.

KNEW WHEN TO QUIT.—"I think I may be excused for a little show of pride in saying that I knew when to quit Wall street," he observed, as an elevated train carried him over that great thoroughfare.

"So you used to speculate, eh?"

"Yes, I was on that street for seven years."

"Made your pile, I suppose?"

"Yes, I made and lost money the same as the rest. At one time I could draw my check for $93,000, and that wasn't so bad for a man who went into Wall street with only $40 in his pocket."

"And you knew when to quit?"

"Yes, sir."

"That was when—when—?"

"That was when I had enough left to pay my fare to Elmira and hire a boy to carry my sachel up to my father-in-law's house!" was the quiet reply.—Wall Street Journal.

A well known fellow of Trinity College, Dublin, remarkable for a peculiarly shaped and very ugly nose, resisting the importunities of an Irish beggar woman for "a ha' penny for the honor of the Blessed Virgin," she turned upon him with: "The Lord forgive you! And may he presarve yer eyesight, for 'tis yerself has the bad nose for spectacles."

A jury in North Carolina, after being charged in the usual way by the judge, retired to their room, when a white juror ventured to ask a colored associate if he understood the charge of the judge. "What!" exclaimed the astonished juror, "he don't charge nuffin for dat, does he? Why, I thought we was gwine to get pay!"

The fashion of asking your guests to write something in the album has gone out of date. The latest social instrument of torture is the autograph fan—a fan of pure white parchment on which the ladies ask celebrities and nonenities to write something. This distraction is becoming very popular in Paris.

It is a pretty serious thing to break an old friendship, for, like old china, it can never be quite whole again. A broken friendship may be soldered, but it will always show the crack.

Sincerity is to speak as we think, to do as we pretend and profess, to perform and make good what we promise, and really to be what we would seem and appear to be.

Court the sun winter and summer in your rooms and outdoors, for sunshine to the young is vigor, while to the old it is life itself.

John Bright is reported to have said that Americans alone among mankind, are in the habit of signing their names legibly.

A Missouri man won a breach of promise suit because a contract made on Sunday is not legal.

Arab Auguries.

The Bedouins take auguries from birds. A single raven in one's path is a very bad token, but two are extremely lucky. They say Akhd haregn Falen zein—Two green (i. e. black) ones a fair omen. They have many other superstitions about animals.—The superstition as to the rock badger, which Palmer noted in the Peninsula of Sinai, is unknown here; but there is a similar idea about the monkeys which frequent Mount Kara. These, it is said, were once men, who came to visit the Prophet. He set before them milk and water, directing them to drink the former and perform their ablutions with the latter. The perverse visitors drank the water and washed with the milk, and were transformed to monkeys for their disobedience. As they were once men their flesh is not eaten.

This legend is closely akin to what one reads in the fabulous history of early Arabia about Nasnas and the Wabar in the great sandy desert. Both these words are monkey names, quite current in the present day, though not recognized in the lexicons. The latter is an ape, the former a monkey with a tail. Except in the monkey story, I could find no trace of the superstitious rejection of the flesh of any animal. But some kinds of flesh have a magical virtue attached to them. A man who suffers in any member of his body seeks to cure by eating a corresponding part of a hyena.—The hyena is also eaten in the neighborhood of Suez, for a friend of mine who shot one near the Wells of Moses was requested by the Bedouins to give them a leg. A similar virtue attaches to the flesh of the gemsbok (Wudheyhy), a rare species of antelope, found far in the interior. When eaten it draws an obstinate bullet from a wound.—Scotsman.

At Green Island, opposite Yankton, Dakota, a church floated down the river and lodged on the lower part of Green Island. It was evidently of strong timbers and came down in a dignified, majestic sort of a way. It had a steeple, and in the steeple was a bell, and as the building rocked with the current, or was jostled by the ice, the bell would toll, and could be heard over the crash of the ice and of the flood. The sound, a deep, monotonous clang, and the sight of the moving church, were alike awe-inspiring.

Mrs. Lewis, the English lady who recently came to this country to regulate its domesticity, wants to introduce thirteen-year-old boys as house servants. How the boys would enjoy playing pitch and toss with the crockery, "pass ball" with the biscuits and squirting water from the kitchen faucets over the maids. And then the well-known tendency of thirteen-year-old boys to keep their hands absolutely clean would add a relish to everything that might come on the table.

Little Pearl sat thoughtfully regarding a long row of dolls before her, her tiny head harassed by all the care of a large and varied family. "Mamma," she said at last, "I can't ever be really married; it is so much trouble to take care of children. I don't know what I should do if it weren't that I'm going to marry off my eldest doll to my toy elephant."—Boston Courier.

A stockbroker, returning to his office one day, after a substantial luncheon with a client, said, complacently, to his head clerk: "Mr. Putkin, the world looks different to a man when he has a bottle of champagne in him." "Yes, sir," replied the clerk, significantly, "and he looks different to the world."

Thirty days after a Michigan man got a divorce from his wife to marry one with a handsomer face, the woman fell heir to $287,000. That fellow couldn't feel worse if he had inflammatory rheumatism and was unable to get to Sam Fales' Hot Springs Baths.

A Chicago jewelry firm has put up a sign 129 feet long and 5½ feet wide, which consumed 4,000 feet of lumber, $400 worth of gold and $250 worth of metal ornaments, was three months in course of construction, and cost $2,500.

GETTING INTERESTING.

The President has at last come to the wise conclusion that he and not Roscoe Conkling is to manage our governmental affairs. The latest Washington telegrams tell us that President Garfield has become tired of the antics of Conkling, and has formally withdrawn all the New York nominations sent to the Senate, except that of Judge Robertson, for the New York Collectorship, which will not be withdrawn under any circumstances. The nominations that have been withdrawn are Conkling men, and how truthfully they can exclaim, "O, save us from our friend!" This action of the President will meet the approval of all true Republicans throughout the country. The attitude assumed by Conkling has been grossly insulting, not only to the President, but to the whole party. The Chicago Convention made a great mistake in attempting to conciliate Mrs. Sprague's bosom friend by nominating his friend, General Arthur, for the Vice Presidency—a man who, at the beck of Conkling, was ready to stab Garfield in the back—figuratively speaking. During the entire campaign last Fall he was a drag to the ticket, and in the Senate he is still a drag. The action of the Republican Senators will be watched with great interest by their party constituents, and he who has an ambition for higher honors than he now enjoys must not link his fortunes with those of Roscoe Conkling, who looks upon himself as the Autocrat of all America.

LIBELS IN THE AIR.—There is a heap of trouble in the Bodie Free Press office these days, and our brethren are lively as daddy-long-legs. On Monday last Osborne & Cleveland appeared before the Grand Jury, in response to a special invite, and the former availed himself of the opportunity to deliver a first-class lecture upon the duties and privileges of the Press. And now comes Job Draper with a threat of a libel suit, for saying that he is a destroying angel and was engaged in the Mountain Meadow massacre, both of which he denies, as he says he was in California at that time.

The highest price bonds of the Government now out are the currency sixes.—They are thus known because principal and interest are payable in lawful money, or currency. They were issued to the Pacific Railway Companies, and are payable thirty years from date. The first become payable in 1895 and the last in 1899. The total amount issued is $64,623,500, all registered in $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000 denominations. They are now quoted at 131 to 132. Some of these bonds are held by the banks in this city.—S. F. Bulletin.

The debt statement shows a decrease in the national debt during April of $9,690,900. Cash in Treasury, $233,741,198; gold certificates, $5,962,600; silver certificates, $56,680,140; certificates of deposit outstanding, $82,955,000; refunding certificates, $725,100; legal tenders outstanding, $346,681,016; fractional currency outstanding, $7,115,046.

THE CHINESE TREATIES.—After a disgraceful wrangle over the Secretaryship of the United States Senate, that body has condescended to attend to business, and ratified the Chinese Treaties, which have so long been before the country. It is to be hoped the treaty will have the desired effect, of preventing further accessions to the Chinese population of this State.

MORE SHOOTING.—On Tuesday last, at Lundy, Eugene Markey was shot, a bullet passing through his leg. Markey was in the employ of the May Dundy Company, defending the Lucky Morton mine. We have no sympathy for men who hire themselves out to defend mining property with a shotgun. Our Courts can settle all mining disputes, and our people are heartily sick of this shotgun practice over mining ground. A little judicious hanging at the time of the Jupiter-Owyhee mess at Bodie might have had a soothing effect on the nerves of some of our belligerent miners.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

SETTLED AT LAST.—On Tuesday last the Supreme Court rendered its decision in the long pending suit of James Showers against P. B. Taylor, involving the right to the office of Sheriff of this county, and affirmed the decision of Judge Briggs, of the Superior Court, which gives the office to James Showers. At the general election in 1879 Showers was elected Sheriff, and immediately after the election he went to San Francisco and neglected to file his bonds within the time required by law. The Board of Supervisors held that Taylor's term as Sheriff by appointment had expired, and that owing to the failure of Showers to file his bond the office was vacant, and so declared, and, on a petition, appointed Mr. Showers to fill the vacancy. Mr. Taylor refused to vacate the office, on the grounds that the appointment was illegal. Showers commenced suit in the Superior Court before Judge Briggs and was awarded the office, but Taylor appealed to the Supreme Court and has not been sustained. It is regretted by the friends of both parties that the matter could not have been amicably arranged without a costly and almost endless litigation. When he retires from the office he has ably filled, Mr. Taylor will have the best wishes of a host of warm personal friends and of our people generally. Mr. Showers will, we doubt not, make a popular officer. He will have the assistance of efficient deputies, who enjoy the confidence and esteem of all who know them, and the Sheriff's office will continue to be "run" to the satisfaction of the people.

A CHURCH BUILDING.—Rev. Mr. Nims, of Antelope Valley, came to town on Friday of last week, held services on Sunday, and returned home on Wednesday. While here he purchased of Mrs. A. F. Bryant a fine lot, 280 feet square, for a church. The property is back of the CHRONICLE-UNION office, above School street and fronting on Emigrant street, and is a fine location. It should be gratifying to our people to learn that we are likely to have a church edifice erected at an early day, and we trust our citizens will aid the undertaking as far as their means will permit, should they be called on for pecuniary assistance.

RESUMED BUSINESS.—We invite attention to the advertisement of C. H. West, of the late firm of West & Bryant, who has resumed business at his old stand in Bodie. Mr. West is one of the pioneer merchants of Bodie, and his legion of friends throughout the county will be pleased to learn that he has again donned the mercantile harness and intends to pull through the present dull times with a full stock of choice goods, which he proposes to sell at bed-rock prices for cash.

THE SONORA ROAD.—This road will probably be opened within the next ten days, as men are at work on the other side, and orders have been given to put a gang to work on this side of the snow belt, which cannot now be very wide. The opening of this fine mountain road will enable many anxious ones to wend their way to Bodie and other points in Mono county.

WILL START UP.—On or about the 1st of June, N. B. Hunnewill, of Bridgeport, will start up the Porter Saw-mills at Mono Lake, and the people of Lundy can be supplied with lumber by Mr. Hunnewill for much less per thousand than the Lundy mill is charging.

A PROTEST.—The Supreme Court having rendered its decision in the Showers-Taylor case, that James Showers is Sheriff of Mono county, T. A. Stephens, Showers' attorney, has filed a protest against the Board of Supervisors auditing the bills of Sheriff Taylor and his deputies.

WILL CLOSE.—The Bridgeport school will close on Tuesday next. As most of the large pupils are living on farms, where they can make themselves useful until after harvest, the school will probably not be opened until October.

DO SO.—If to-morrow (Sunday) is pleasant, drive down to Sam. Fales' Hot Springs, take a bath, eat a good dinner, be happy, and it will add ten years to your life. The roads are in first-class condition, and the drive is a pleasant one. Try it.

GRAND JURY REPORT.—The Grand Jury submitted their final report to Judge Wiggin on Tuesday morning and were discharged. The report will be found in another column.

REPORT.—J. A. McQuaid, Attorney for the County, has been directed by the Board of Supervisors to notify the county officers to make their monthly reports to the Auditor promptly.

LUMBER.—Last year, Bodie used 5,000,000 feet of lumber, but this year, it is estimated, 2,500,000 feet will be amply sufficient to supply the wants of that town.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT.—A School District, to be known as the Lundy School District, has been established in Homer Township.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.—The Supervisors have appointed T. M. Luther, James C. Wright and R. J. Van Voorhies, Fire Commissioners for Bodie.

CLOUDY and windy this afternoon.

ANNUAL MEETINGS.—The Big Meadows and Bodie Wagon Road, and East Walker Road Companies were held here on Monday evening last. The former re-elected the following officers: President, N. B. Hunnewill; Vice President, J. C. Murphy; Trustees; G. B. Day, Jesse N Summers, D. Jeffreys, W. T. Elliott and D. Hays; Secretary, D. Jeffreys; Treasurer, D. Hays. The latter elected the following: President, N. B. Hunnewill; Vice President, J. C. Murphy; Trustees, N. B. Hunnewill, J. C. Murphy, J. N. Summers, D. Jeffreys, and D. Hays; Secretary, D. Jeffreys; Treasurer, D. Hays. The roads of both companies are in splendid condition.

FROM KERN.—On Tuesday two teams of our townsman, Jesse N. Summers, Mono's cattle king, arrived here from Kern county, where they were sent last Fall to be wintered. There were forty horses and mules and six wagons—three wagons to a team of twenty animals. The wagons—about as big as the Palace Hotel—were filled with Kern county barley. The animals are in splendid condition, and they walked up Main street as proud as a boy with his first boots, and showing that Kern is a good county to winter stock in.

GOOD FEED.—The horses and cattle in this section are beginning to enjoy life again—luxuriating on the bounties of Nature—as the bunch grass is coming up strong, and the cattle, particularly, are doing finely, enabling our housewives to supply their tables with fresh golden butter—of which we have been favored with a fine specimen at the hands of Mrs. Thomas Kirkwood, who will accept our thanks. Those who have been getting lean since last Fall on oleomargarine, now have an opportunity to recuperate on the simon pure, gilt-edged article.

A FINE PLAN.—John Roberts, the architect of our Court House, has prepared and forwarded to Tombstone, Arizona, a plan for a brick Court House and Jail for that place. We can only say, if the authorities of Tombstone are favored with, and select, a finer one, the Tombstoners will have a public edifice they can be proud of.

A BRANCH AT HAWTHORNE.—A. C. Raymond, the well-know dealer in harness saddles, and horse dress goods, of Bodie, has built a store at Hawthorne, and opened up with a good stock of everything in his line. Travelers visiting Hawthorne should bear this in mind.

AN EXPERT.—The Supervisors have appointed R. W. Woodard an expert to examine the books and accounts of the Trustees of the Bodie School District.

PERSONAL.—Miss Clara Penrose, one of the BODIE CHRONICLE "Angels," is in town, on a visit to her friend, Miss May Temple, the "Angel" of the UNION.

THANKS.—E. F. Gibson, of the Union Fruit Market, at Bodie, will accept thanks for a large pickled salmon-trout—all the way from Lake Tahoe.

DEEDS.—During the month of April, 75 deeds—51 real estate and 24 mining, were recorded in the County Recorder's office.

A. B. Stewart, Druggist, Bodie, has received a large stock of garden, flower and field seeds.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY

BRIDGEPORT, MONO COUNTY, CAL.
May 3, 1881.

To the Hon. M. P. Wiggin, Judge of the Superior Court of Mono County, Cal:

We, the Grand Jury for Mono County, impanneled for the April Term of the Superior Court, held in and for said county, A. D. 1881, respectfully submit to your Honor our final Report:

First.—In the course of our deliberations and investigations, we have considered the cases of all persons in the county jail, and at liberty, charged with crime.

We have found one Indictment for murder.

We have ignored two bills where the crime charged was perjury.

We have found one Indictment for felony, procuring false testimony.

We have ignored one bill where the crime charged was embezzlement.

We have ignored one bill where the crime charged was libel.

Whole number of witnesses examined, 22.

We have made a careful examination and inspection of the books and accounts of your county officers; that we found them kept in a neat and business-like manner.

We have examined the Assessment Roll for 1880-81, and found the amount returned by the Assessor $2,365,550, on which was levied a tax of 4 per cent., amounting to $94,622, of which there has been received, less commissions, in the Treasury $85,-304 99. Amount delinquent sold to the State $10 454 49; due by the Collector, less commissions, $3,982 46; due by the Assessor, less commissions, $169 77; difference in tax levy and the amount collected by the Assessor, $1,039 60, making a total of $95,902 69.

We found by the books of the Auditor, there should be in the County Treasury $26,693 39, and, upon the examination of the Treasurer's books, that they agreed with the same. We also found that there was cash and vouchers for that amount in the Treasury.

The following is a statement of the floating debt of warrants issued on the General Fund at 7 per cent. per annum, and registered since March 1, 1880, inclusive, to May 1, 1881, $40,995 13, less cash in fund, $3,067 04; leaving a General Fund indebtedness of $37,928 09. The amount of General Fund indebtedness, as reported by Grand Jury, July 15, 1880; was $23,-693 05—increase of same since July 15th, 1880, to date, $14,235 04.

Antelope Bridgeport and Benton Road Bond debt, $20,000.

Due on new Court House, $5,000.

Total indebtedness, less cash in General Fund, $62,928 09.

We call the attention of the Board of Supervisors to the fact that at some times there is in hands of the Treasurer as large a sum as $80,000; that the law requires a bond of but $10,000. We consider it entirely inadequate, and would recommend that if any law exists in accordance therewith to raise the bond of the Treasurer, and also increase his salary.

We have found the new Court House to be commodious and substantial, and that all the parties connected with its construction are worthy of all praise. We also find that the contract price for the same was $23,900. We also find that there has been expended for changes in building, and for furniture, counters, matting, carpets, water pipe, etc., the sum of $6,843, making a cost to this date of $30,743. We also find that the contractors' bondsmen have had to pay, in excess of contract price, for the completion of building, $5,657.

We have visited the county and branch jails, and consider them in every way sufficient for the purposes to which they are assigned; no complaint from any person therein confined, but would recommend the removal of the water-closet from its present position, at branch jail, at Bodie, as an easy exit might be made from its present position.

We also visited the County Hospital, and questioned many of the inmates as to their treatment. They all seemed well pleased. We find the main ward needs better ventilation than that with which it is at present supplied.

We also examined the books of Justices Newman and Phlegar, and found them correct; but in the matter of ex-Justice Peterson, we found on his books about $100 not accounted for to the county, which is hereby referred to the Board of Supervisors.

We also find that there has been a large number of suits commenced by the District Attorney against parties for delinquent taxes levied as a special school tax in the Bodie School District, for which there have been no returns made, and for such negligence we can find no excuse, and urge immediate attention of the same.

Our attention has been drawn to the action of the Sheriff, and his Deputies, in summoning active firemen from Bodie to act as jurors, thereby putting the county to useless expense, and them to great inconvenience. We recommend that a certified list of active firemen be placed in the hands of the Sheriff, and also one in each of the Justices' Courts in Bodie for the inspection of Deputies.

We also request the Board of Supervisors to see that county officers, or other persons, shall not occupy their offices as sleeping apartments, with the exception of the janitor.

We deem it our duty to express our disapproval of the manner in which designing parties used the machinery of the county to have indictments found by a Special Grand Jury against citizens of this county, and then entirely fail to bring such causes to trial, thereby inflicting irreparable injury upon those citizens, without giving them a chance to establish their innocence. We find the actions referred to have cost the county nearly $4,000. We would recommend that irresponsible witnesses in such cases be placed under bonds for their appearance.

The Grand Jury would recommend the discharge of Sam Chung for reasons already known to the Court.

We also examined into the management of the Bodie School District, the Report of which is hereby annexed.

In examining the Records of the Board of Supervisors we find the orders made concerning the enforcement of the law requiring all officers to make monthly reports. the same has not been complied with, which, in the opinion of the Grand Jury, is a contempt, and we urgently request its enforcement. We also find that the Assessor failed to place the assessment roll in the hands of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors on the first Monday in July, as required by law, but kept it in his possession until the time expired for the Supervisors to act as a Board of Equalization, thereby depriving the county of a legal Board of Equalization, and, in our opinion, many thousand dollars just tax. We denounce such action of the Assessor, and recommend the Board of Supervisors to see that a repetition of the same unlawful means is not again resorted to.

To THE GRAND JURY OF MONO COUNTY:

GENTLEMEN:

Your Committee, to whom was referred the matter of the apparent discrepancy existing in accounts of the Board of Trustees of the Bodie School District, and those of the Superintendent of the Schools, as per published statement, on which the Superintendent requested investigation, report as follows: That we first called upon Z. B. Tinkum, Esq., County Treasurer, for a statement of transactions in his office with Bodie School District, which he promptly furnished in detail, showing all appropriations to the School Fund of that district to date; also all accounts, as to apportionment to Special Building Fund, and the numbers and amounts of all warrants paid on account of such Fund. We next called upon Mr. H. E. Battin, Clerk of Board of School Trustees of Bodie School District and after informing him of our business, requested a detailed statement of the accounts of the Trustees from the time of their assuming office, July 18, 1879, to date. We then called upon Mrs. C. W. Sullivan, School Superintendent, and examined her books, which we found kept in a neat, business-like manner. We carefully examined and compared her accounts with statements of Treasurer and vouchers on file, and found them to exactly agree, and were furnished with a statement of apportionment made, a list of all warrants drawn, with numbers, dates, in whose favor, and amounts, for the purpose and to assist in examining account of Trustees. We also compared published statement of School Superintendent, which was given us with her books and statement of warrants drawn, and found it strictly true, as to matters referred thereby.

On comparing the orders drawn by Trustees, which were on file in offide of School Superintendent, with their published statement, which purported to be a full and complete account of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending July 1st, 1880, we could harmonise them only in a few instances, and on inquiry of Mr. Battin for an explanation of the cause, he informed us that that the published statement, by the Trustees, was intended to include transactions on account of "Special Building Fund," instead of for all school purposes," which fact we found on examination of his books and vouchers to be substantially correct. We have also compared his books, accounts, and statements, furnished us by Mr. Battin, with the verified statements of Superintendent and Treasurer, and find no apparent difference, except in one instance in which the Trustees were charged charged with a warrant for $100 on books of Superintendent that did not appear among vouchers in order book of Trustees. But a written order had been given by two of the Trustees, in absence of the Clerk, and no charge of record made therefore by them. We regret that the limited time at the disposal of your Committee did not permit a thorough and complete examination of all transactions on account of Special Building Fund, as we believe those most directly interested would feel better satisfied could they know that their money has been judiciously expended and full equivalent received therefor. We find that the books of the Trustees are kept in a manner to show accounts in detail, and a bill of items of each transaction could be easily furnished, and, while in our examination we found no cause to construe the manner in which their accounts are kept, as they appear to show plainly each and every item, we are not prepared to say there was due economy exercised in contracts made and purchase of supplies and material used in the construction of the school building, which facts could only appear upon careful comparison of all accounts connected with the same. Mr. Battin, on behalf of the Trustees, placed his books, accounts and vouchers freely before us, and stated that he had bills for all supplies and purchases made, and receipts for all moneys paid, and in confirmation showed many bills, some of which we examined; also a book containing many receipts from parties for money on account of school building. We would call your attention attention to the fact that the warrants, amounting to $9,398 79, for building the school house, were all drawn in favor of the School Trustees, and subject to their distribution, and while this was somewhat irregular, it was a matter of great convenience to all concerned in receiving money on any account from the School Building Fund. In conclusion we would call your attention to the payment of money from the school money for the collection of delinquent taxes, as it is the duty of the District Attorney to collect said tax and costs from parties assessed, and we find that such has been done contrary to law.

We would recommend that a Committee be appointed by the Board of Supervisors to make a complete examination of the books and accounts of the Bodie Trustees of the transactions on account of Special Building Fund, and report to them as soon as practicable.

W. T. ELLIOTT, Chairman.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

As soon as the leaves of the currant and gooseberry are fairly expanded, the "worm" may be looked for. The eggs are laid upon the under side of the lower leaves, and if these are removed and destroyed, much trouble is averted.

The strawberry is greatly affected by soil, situation and climate. No matter how enthusiastically a certain variety may be praised, it is safer to test it in a small way before engaging in its extensive cultivation.

If you have but little ground, it is better to grow small fruits, currants and berries, than to attempt growing fruit trees. If you have room for a few fruit trees, choose cherry or pear trees before apples.

A small, early-maturing hog is much more valuable than a large one, as no more food will be required to raise a good, quick-growing one than for a large, but slow, all-lard hog.
